

The AI Agent Agent

Full business + brand review for markup

Prepared for: Dad | From: Noah Weiss | Date: July 15, 2026

Domain: theaiagentagent.com | Status: pre-launch

I become your agent for all things AI.

Not a chatbot company. Not a one-off “let’s build a bot” workshop. Full-service AI representation: judgment, execution, and ongoing edge.

Why this packet exists

I want your eyes on the whole thing before it goes public: the idea, the offer, the brand, the website language, and the risks. Please mark it up hard. Cross things out. Write in the boxes. Be blunt.

How to mark it up

- Circle anything confusing
- Cross out anything weak or fake
- Star anything strong
- Use the markup boxes for notes
- Score the last page

Open questions I especially want your take on

1. Is the core idea clear in one sentence?
2. Does “agent for all things AI” sound premium or vague?
3. Would a serious operator pay for this?
4. What feels off, try-hard, or unclear?
5. What would you cut immediately?

— MARKUP / NOTES —

1. The business idea

The metaphor

Everyone wants an agent in LA: the person who gets you the best opportunities. Right now, the hot version of that is AI. I become that agent for all things AI.

What I actually do

- Help clients decide what AI is worth using and what is noise
- Build or set up agents and workflows when something should exist
- Stay in their corner as tools, vendors, and needs change
- Protect them from AI theater and bad decisions

What this is not

- Not “we build one agent together and goodbye”
- Not a generic AI consulting menu
- Not a software product launch (service / representation first)
- Not free ChatGPT tutoring

Who it is for

Operators, founders, and professionals who want a permanent AI edge and someone accountable for it.

Why now

AI is moving fast. People are overwhelmed. They need representation, not more tabs and tools.

Boardroom sentence

“I become your agent for all things AI. Full-service. Results-driven. Los Angeles.”

MARKUP / NOTES

2. Offer and money model

PIECE	WHAT IT IS	NOTES / PRICE LATER
Representation Core product	Ongoing AI agent relationship. Judgment + execution across tools, workflows, builds, vendors, decisions.	Monthly / quarterly fee TBD
Working session Entry	Sharp activation session to start the relationship and create immediate value.	Fee TBD
Scoped build As needed	When representation requires a specific agent/system, scope it and ship it.	Quoted as needed

Language rules

Use

- I become your agent for all things AI
- Full-service representation
- In your corner
- Judgment + execution
- Secret weapon

Avoid as the brand

- “We build an agent together”
- AI workshop
- Pair-building as identity
- Consulting menu theater

Dad questions on offer

- ☐ Is representation clear enough to sell?
- ☐ Should the entry offer be more concrete before launch?
- ☐ Any pricing instincts (too soft / too premium / missing)?

MARKUP / NOTES

3. Brand and visual direction

Inspiration

CAA / UTA / Roc Nation energy: prestige, restraint, representation. Not startup gradients. Not “AI purple.”

Visual system

- White / black / green only
- Primary mark: my real handwriting of “The AI Agent Agent”
- Institutional lockup: clean uppercase wordmark + green rule + Los Angeles
- Type: clean grotesk (Inter / Helvetica style), not decorative AI fonts
- Space: sparse, agency-like, lots of room

Color

COLOR	HEX	USE
White	#FFFFFF	Background
Black	#000000	Type / structure
Muted	#666666	Secondary text
Green	#0B6B3A	Accent / authority only

Voice rules

- Direct, confident, short
- No fake authenticity language
- No baseless claims
- No em dashes
- Boardroom test on everything

MARKUP / NOTES

Does the brand feel premium, clear, and like Noah? Or does it feel try-hard / vague?

MARKUP / NOTES

4. Website and public language

Current public promise

Headline: I become your agent for all things AI.

Support: Everyone wants an agent in LA. Now the word on the street is AI agents. I make AI your secret weapon.

CTA: Get representation

Site structure

1. Hero with handwriting mark + promise
2. About: full-service, just me
3. Method: judgment / execution / ongoing edge
4. Offer: representation details
5. FAQ
6. Contact

Domain / assets

- Domain owned: theaiagentagent.com
- Site drafted and SEO structured
- DNS still needs final pointing for public launch
- LinkedIn launch draft ready (not posted)

LinkedIn launch core

I'm not here to build one bot with you and disappear.

I become your agent for all things AI.

Full-service. Results-driven. In your corner.

MARKUP / NOTES

What would you change on the website language or launch post?

5. Risks, open items, and your scores

Known open items

- ☐ Lock representation pricing
- ☐ Point domain DNS and launch site live
- ☐ Finalize professional agent portrait (optional but useful)
- ☐ First 3 target clients / warm outreach list
- ☐ Legal / entity / banking when first paid work is real

Risks I want you to challenge

- Is “all things AI” too broad to sell?
- Does the LA agent metaphor help or distract outside entertainment circles?
- Is solo delivery credible at the price we may need?
- Where does this conflict with law school timing / bandwidth?

MARKUP / NOTES

Biggest risk you see:

Scorecard (1–5)

Clarity of the idea	1	2	3	4	5
Believability / trust	1	2	3	4	5
Premium brand feel	1	2	3	4	5
Market need	1	2	3	4	5
Launch readiness	1	2	3	4	5
Overall: would you tell a friend to hire this?	1	2	3	4	5

Final recommendation

- ☐ Ship now (with minor fixes)
- ☐ Ship after changes (list below)
- ☐ Pause / rethink

MARKUP / NOTES

Final notes / must-change list: